for this product! (Please note that the color shown in the video may no longer be available.) It was the turbulent 1980s. Reagan was in the White House and a New Wave sound swept across the nation. It was also the time when Oakley created the one-of-a-kind sunglasses called the FROGSKIN®. Oakley resurrected the original tooling from the early 1980s to produce new limited editions, offering you a chance to own a piece of history. For each original color combination of this coveted style, only 3000 Collectors Editions will be produced. This is an opportunity to own a rare retro classic, and once supplies are gone, the window of opportunity will be closed forever.
